

No. 20 | Practising and Teaching during the Winter Term

Dear Hanns Eisler School Community,

We are delighted to begin today's corona bulletin with a positive piece of news: that teaching and practising will be possible in the school buildings next term, almost to the extent you are used to with only a few final restrictions.

For you, dear students, this means that on September 15 you can start practising extensively in both school buildings following the usual Asimut booking procedures. After the teaching schedule has been finalized by our teaching staff, it will also be possible to use teaching rooms for practice purposes when unoccupied.

For our teaching staff also nothing has changed: you follow the usual procedure of reserving your teaching rooms as of September 15. Thank you for your cooperation.

During the period of the entrance examinations (September 21 - October 2), there will be rooms available in both buildings for practising and teaching, since we have already made a digital pre-selection this year and only 175 applicants will be travelling to Berlin for these exams.

In order to ensure business "almost" as usual, Mr. Hellmann's team has written down the necessary hygiene rules which we must all observe. Please make sure you have read and digested these thoroughly - we want to ensure a smooth beginning to this term for all of us here!

Eislercloud link: <https://eislercloud.hfm-berlin.de/>

We look forward immensely to seeing you all again in early October!

Kindest regards from the School's Directorate,

Sarah Wedl-Wilson
Rector

Professor Andrea Tober
Prorector

Hans-Joachim Völz
Chancellor